In Summary

Students will sometimes disclose sensitive information to someone they perceive as a friendly person. In this situation we ask that:

- Never promise to keep this information a secret
- Do NOT ask leading questions
- Make a written note of what is said, ideally at the time of disclosure or as soon afterwards as possible, using the student's words
- Reassure the student that they were right to pass on their concerns
- Pass information onto the Designated Safeguarding Lead or another member of the Safeguarding Team
- Keep information confidential; it is not a matter for gossip
- Do not worry that you might be wasting someone's time. . . if it concerns you, pass it on.

What may raise your level of concern

- Marks on the child's body
- Changed behaviours and emotions
- Comments made by the child - disclosure or descriptive remarks

However, there may be non-abusive reasons for these.

How to deal with a disclosure

Do . . .

- Take the child seriously
- Reassure them that it is alright to tell you
- Take your time
- Let them speak
- Listen carefully
- Ask open questions
- Clarify with open questions
- Say what you will do next e.g. report to Designated Safeguarding Lead
- Record verbatim and sign and date
- Provide factual information
- Consider medical attention
- Liaise with Designated Safeguarding Lead at the earliest opportunity, who will refer to Children's Services, if appropriate

Do not . . .

- Promise to keep it a secret
- Stop the child from speaking
- Ask leading questions
- Question unnecessarily
- Make assumptions
- Minimise
e.g. "That doesn't sound serious"
- Try to deal with it on your own
- Delay in passing on your concern
- Force the child to recall
- Ask the child to show you any injuries requiring the removal of clothing
- End the conversation abruptly
- Criticise the alleged perpetrator

Following a Disclosure

- Pass on the concern to the Designated Safeguarding Lead, as soon as possible
- Confidentiality - you should only discuss your concerns with appropriate other people; it is not a matter for gossip
- Record-keeping is essential - accurately record what is said and done on CPOMS
